

of note

12/213

effect on account of ^{the Siamese} ~~the~~ provision concerning sale or pledge by a person who is not the owner of the thing sold, pledged, etc. Since we use to say that such transfers are void but that the ~~good~~ transferee in good faith shall receive compensation (~~of the thing~~ Civil Code s. 284, 285; Pledge s. 789; Draft Book on Things s. 116, ¹¹⁸ 118.) ~~the~~ I remind that this portion has been taken previously in this question, and is conform to the jurisprudence of the Dike Court in matter of pledges of things obtained ^{on the transfer of which had no right} ~~through a criminal offence~~ (what is the case of the hire-purchaser, when he is only a lessee).
As to ^{any} ~~the~~ transfer or disposal of the thing during the time when A is ~~as~~ ^{as} ~~us~~ ^{us} ~~loyer~~ ^{loyer} a lessee, but a possessor and promisee, ~~the~~ ^{his} transferee shall have a good title ~~by the effect of~~, as a consequence of the option ^{for purchase} ~~being~~ made ~~in~~ ^{by} A disposing of the thing.