

1173
1306.—Extraordinary ~~general~~ meetings must be summoned if a requisition to that effect is made in writing by shareholders holding not less than one fifth of the shares of the company. The requisition must specify the object for which the meeting is required to be summoned.

1174
1307.—Whenever a requisition for the summoning of an extraordinary ~~general~~ meeting is made by shareholders according to the last preceding section, the directors shall forthwith summon such meeting.

If the meeting is not summoned within thirty days after the date of the requisition, the requisitionists, or any other shareholders amounting to the required number, may themselves summon it.

1175
1308.—Notice of the summoning of every general meeting shall either be published ^{at} least twice in a local paper, not later than seven days before the date fixed for the meeting, or shall be sent by post not later than seven days before the date fixed for the meeting to every shareholder whose name appears in the register of shareholders.

The notice shall specify the place, the day and the hour of meeting and the nature of the business to be transacted.

1176
1309.—Every shareholder has the right to be present at any general meeting.

1177
1310.—Unless there are provisions to the contrary in the regulations of the company, the rules provided by the following sections shall apply to general meetings. But section 1306 shall apply notwithstanding any provision to the contrary.

1178
1311.—A general meeting ^{may} ~~shall~~ not transact any business unless shareholders representing at least one fourth of the capital of the company are present.

1179
1312.—If within an hour from the time appointed for the general meeting the quorum prescribed by Section ~~1311~~ is not present, the meeting, if summoned upon the requisition of shareholders, shall be dissolved.

If the general meeting had not been summoned upon the requisition of shareholders, another general meeting shall be summoned within fourteen days and at such meeting no quorum shall be necessary.
