

2) The manager is liable to the principal for all the consequences of his intervention, even consequences due to force majeure.

3) The principal is not bound to reimburse the manager for the advances made or expenses incurred except in so far as he has been enriched thereby.

93. — The fact that the manager has undertaken to act contrary to the will of the principal shall not be taken into consideration in any case in which a duty imposed on the principal in the public interest would not be fulfilled in due time except for such intervention.

94. — If an act of management has for its object the averting of an imminent danger which threatens the principal, the manager is liable to the principal for the consequences of his act in so far only as they are due to his fault.

95. — If the manager has ~~not~~ undertaken to act ~~[not]~~ contrary to the will of the principal, but has failed to act with proper care, the following rules apply:

1) The principal is bound to third persons by the acts done by the manager.

2) The manager is liable to the principal for the consequences of his misconduct.

3) If advances have been made or expenses incurred by the manager, the principal is bound to reimburse them only in so far as he has been enriched thereby.

2) The manager is liable to the principal for all the consequences of his intervention, even consequences due to force majeure.

3) The principal is not bound to reimburse the manager for the advances made or expenses incurred except in so far as he has been enriched thereby.

93.—The fact that the manager has undertaken to act contrary to the will of the principal shall not be taken into consideration in any case in which a duty imposed on the principal in the public interest would not be fulfilled in due time except for such intervention.

94.—If an act of management has for its object the averting of an imminent danger which threatens the principal, the manager is liable to the principal for the consequences of his act in so far only as they are due to his fault.

95.—If the manager has ~~not~~ undertaken to act ^{not} ~~con~~trary to the will of the principal, but has failed to act with proper care, the following rules apply :

1) The principal is bound to third persons by the acts done by the manager.

2) The manager is liable to the principal for the consequences of his misconduct.

3) If advances have been made or expenses incurred by the manager, the principal is bound to reimburse them only in so far as he has been enriched thereby.