

1462. — Whoever is found guilty of recidive [=recidivism] within one year, the prior and subsequent offences coming under the provisions of this Title, shall be liable to double the punishment prescribed for the subsequent offence.

1463. — The provisions of this Code concerning Associations shall apply without prejudice to the punishment prescribed for any person being a member of a secret society or criminal association, as provided by Sections 177 to 182 of the Penal Code.

1462.—Whoever is found guilty of recidive within one year, the prior and subsequent offences coming under the provisions of this Title, shall be liable to double the punishment prescribed for the subsequent offence.

1463.—The provisions of this Code concerning Associations shall apply without prejudice to the punishment prescribed for any person being a member of a secret society or criminal association, as provided by Sections 177 to 182 of the Penal Code.