Illustration:—A and B, joint-owners of a running concern (printing work), have agreed on the 1st. April 2460 that they shall not divide their joint-property for five years. In October 2462, A who is engaged in several other businesses is on the verge of bankruptcy. He cannot find any money to borrow on his share in the printing works, but if he is allowed to sell it, he could with his share in the price-money meet his liabilities and avoid bankruptcy. Under such circumstances, he may ask the Court to order that the non-division agreement be cancelled and the concern be sold by public auction.

TITLE IV.

Surrender and Abandonment of immovables.

71. — A person who has been, under the Land Laws, granted an unoccupied land by the Government, may at any time surrender his grant, by complying to that effect with the provisions of the Land Laws.
